Material

The fur-imitations consist of high-quality acrylic or modacrylic fibers or mixtures and exhibit good light and color fastness. Modacryl is also fire retardant. The fur-imitations are knitted. Excessive pulling can lead to hair loss. SK2 is a high-tech fiber produced by the company Kaneka, Osaka/Japan under the brand name Kanecaron®. Its softness, stability light and color fastness as well as its wash resistance are outstanding. For more detailed information, see: www.kanecaron.com. The following articles are produced with SK2 fibers: Timberwolf, Puma. All blankets are filled with easy-care microweb® velvet made of 100% Polyester.

The cushion fillings consist of 70% PES fibers and 30 % PU rhombi. A dynamic siliconized tubular fibre with 3D-crimp (rebound elasticity) is used. With normal usage, these high quality cushion fillings will last at least 3 years. Wash in cold/gentle cycle or dry clean.

Some of the fur-imitations used are also available by the meter.

Care Instructions

Fur blankets and cushion covers (without content): Washable in cold/gentle cycle, without a spin cycle. Hand wash with mild detergent possible. Line dry unfolded, do not tumble. Do not use solvents or cleaners containing fat or alcohol.

The products come with antistatic finishing. If the environment is very dry, synthetic materials can accumulate electrostatic charge. Increase air moisture in your environment in that case, or use an anti-static spray against electrostatic charge as a short term solution.
